BOUND TO GET BACK

Young Combs Crime So That He May Be Deported to Germany.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
New York, May 11.—Wilhelm Darrach, twenty-two years old, who boards at 174 East Twenty-second Street, wanted to get back to Germany to marry a girl he left in Berlin when he came to this country a year and a half ago. An acquaintance told him that if a person committed a felony within two years coming to this country he would be sent back to his native land by the government. So at 2:30 o'clock this morning Darrach opened a window of the corner saloon at 1609 Third Avenue, and went inside. Turning up all the lights, he took a cigar and stood behind the bar in view of chance passersby, and puffed away. A crowd gathered, and along came a policeman, who saw Darrach. He didn't know whether to arrest for excise violation or burglary, but the German youth suggested burglary. When the prisoner was arraigned in the Yorkville Police Court he said that in his conscience he was not guilty of any crime, but under the law he had committed a felony, and wished to plead guilty. Magistrate O'Connor had the plea changed to not guilty.

and held the young man in $1,000 bail for the grand jury. Darrach said he was a musician, and had to pawn his violin. Then his sweetheart was tired of waiting and threatened to marry another man, and he simply had to get back to Germany.

and an office building erected. When Delmonico's removed to Forty-fourth Street and Fifth Avenue J. B. Martin came in. There have been many lively balls in the building since Martin succeeded to the place, and many dinners noted for their extravagance. Two years ago Louis Martin, who had been in partnership with his brother, left him and opened a restaurant in Broadway and Forty-second Street.

RARE ANTIQUES PRESENTED

Washington, May 11.—Two rare antiques were accepted to-day by the annual council of the Ladies' Association of Mount Vernon, in session at Washington's home at Mount Vernon. J. P. Morgan contributed a cut-glass decanter used by the first President, and Charles H. Mackay contributed a map of the battle of Gloucester, drawn by a member of the staff of General Lafayette. The council subscribed $1,000 to buy the original grant of 5,000 acres of the Washington estate at Mount Vernon by Lord Culpeper to John Washington, great-grandfather of the first President.

FIRES AT FORMER EMPEROR

(Special Cable to The Times-Dispatch.) Peking, May 11.—An unknown assassin, now being searched for by the authorities, attempted the life of the former Emperor of China by firing at him to-night, through a window of the Chang Chung Palace. The bullet passed very close to the former Emperor's head and his escape was a narrow one.

LAST FLING AT MARTIN'S

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] New York, May 11.—They closed Martin's at Twenty-sixth Street and Fifth Avenue, to-night with a ball. Perhaps it would be more accurate to say Martin's closed this (Sunday) morning, some time. The ball did not start until 11 o'clock, and no time limit had been fixed for the performance. It was lively at the start, brisk at midnight, going some an hour later. Imagination may picture the rest for those whose have had Martin's gay in the past were having a last whirl. Early in the evening the restaurants were filled with men and women having their last fling in the building, which was Delmonico's a dozen years ago. J. B. Martin flitted from room to room greeting old friends and customers, telling them to have a good time, and promising that he was not retiring for good. The building is to be torn down
